What makes a FOURFIELDS Geographer?

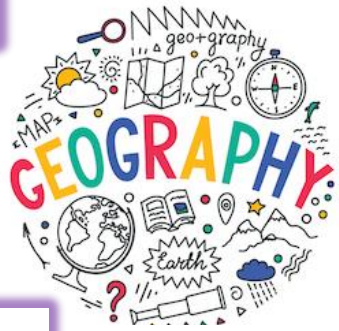
Makes links with science, maths, history and technology.

Uses fieldwork skills to collect data.



Uses a wide range of resources to collect geographical information.

Uses atlases, globes, maps, plans and photos.

Is able to draw maps and use symbols.

Is able to follow directions.

Understands how we connect with the world around us.

Investigates the processes that shape our world.

Investigates the processes that shape our world.

Is interested in the world around them and wants to find out more.

Sees how our future world can be sustainable.