Dear Parents and Carers,

Welcome back to a new school year! I hope this letter finds you and your families well.

I wanted to share some important news about our school leadership. As I take on the role of Executive Head Teacher across both our school and our partner school, this will mean a small but positive change in how we work day to day.

I am delighted to let you know that Mrs Hewerdine will now be our Head of School. In this role, she will be leading the school on a daily basis—supporting our staff team, welcoming parents, and, most importantly, ensuring that your children are happy, safe, and thriving.

While I will be focusing more on the wider strategic direction across both schools, I will still remain closely connected with our community here. You will continue to see me in school and at events, but it will be Mrs Hewerdine who will be your main point of contact for the day-to-day life of the school.

In practice, this means you will see Mrs Hewerdine at the school gates, around classrooms, and working with pupils, staff, and families each day. She brings warmth, dedication, and a deep commitment to the children, and I know she will continue to help our school flourish. She will be ably supported by Mr Horwood who continues to oversee Teaching and Learning in School and Miss Douglas who oversees Behaviour and Inclusion. If you have any concerns and questions, you should contact them in the first instance.

I am very excited about what this next chapter holds for us. With Mrs Hewerdine leading the school day to day, and myself supporting strategically, I am confident that together we can continue to provide the very best education and experiences for your children.

Thank you, as always, for your support—it means so much to us all.

Warm regards,

Sue Blyth

Executive Head Teacher
